Tutoring Experience

I began tutoring in 2011, focusing on helping students tackle A-Level and IGCSE Physics and Maths. Over the years, my work expanded to PAT and Oxbridge admissions coaching, providing personalised support for problem-solving and mock interviews.

In my 13 years of experience, I've successfully guided students in mastering complex topics like mechanics and thermodynamics while preparing them for competitive exams. Many of my students have earned places at top universities in the UK and Europe, achieving outstanding results under my guidance.
